

How can you stand there

Like you don't care?

How can you cry

Over a movie from World War two

Over a story that isn't even real

And then excuse the repetition of history
Happening as you watch?

You like to think you would have been a hero

If you'd lived during WWII

You would have been on the Nazi's side

People are dying

Children are starving

Shot in the back when they beg for food

This is a genocide

And the world is watching

No historical excuse

No land claim

Can explain this violation of human rights

Take off your blindfold

Look away from Fox News for one goddamn second.

What will it take for you to realize you're on the wrong side of history?

We go to church and the pastor preaches about love and kindness and then turns around to talk about how tragic this war is; if only HAMAS would give up the Israeli government wouldn't have to keep bombing schools and hospitals.

Is this christian love?

The hypocrisy makes me sick
Israel ain't so special that God created everyone equal

Just because it's in your fancy book

That it gets to kill off a people with no consequences

What will it take for you to open your eyes?

Stop watching US propaganda and think

For yourself For a Fucking second

Can you look at all these videos

All this proof

And tell me it's fake?

That I'm ^{the one} trapped in an echo chamber

The only propaganda I'm falling for is the value of human life

You say it's self defense

What the Fuck are they defending from?

Where are the terrorists?

Should we kill every child of someone who has done us wrong?

They want this people gone & they're willing to tell whatever lies they need to make it happen

Stop Fucking Falling For Them

How can you sit here

Like you don't even care?

While bombs fall on people like rain

And our country ~~is helping supply them?~~

How can you cry ^{helps cause this pain?}

Over a movie from World War II

Over a story that isn't even real

And then turn a blind eye to the repetition of history?

You imagine yourself as a hero

~~Fighting valiantly and helping stop the war~~

If you'd lived during the war

You would have watched from another country ~~and~~ told me how fuckin' admirable Hitler is

One of your favourite people did a Nazi salute ~~at the presidential inauguration~~

You ^{tell} told me it was a misunderstanding

I hope one day your rose-tinted glasses

blow up in your face like the cybertrucks you think are so cool

Millions of people are dying
Children live in a world of starvation and terror

Until they're shot in the back

Or their hearts give out from fear

Is this what the great nations of the west support?

It's a genocide

And the world is watching

There is no excuse

No historical wrong or divine land claim

That can explain this violation of human rights

Take off your blindfold

Look away from Fox News for one goddamn second

What will it take for you to realize you're
on the wrong side of history?

We go to church

I sit for an hour listening to a passionate speech about love and kindness

"All people are equal in God's eyes" so why aren't they equal in the eyes of you who claim to be godly?

As soon as sermon is over you turn around
Talk about the war

~~How Israel has to kill everyone off; it's such a shame~~

~~But the Palestinians voted for HAMAS, yes see~~

~~They got what was coming~~

If only HAMAS would give up

The Israeli government could stop bombing the schools and hospitals

The hypocrisy makes me sick

Israel isn't so special

Just because they're in your fancy book

That ~~wiping out a population~~ is okay genocide

What will it take for you to open your eyes?

Propaganda lurks around every corner

Slithering its way into your mind like the snake tricking Adam and Eve

→ What will it ~~...~~ eyes?

To think for yourself for a fucking second?

Can you look at videos upon videos of death

And tell me I'm the one falling for lies?

The only propaganda I've fallen for is the value of human life

WCNSF -

Wounded child, no surviving family

What horrors make this acronym necessary?

How can you sit there

Like you don't even care

While bombs fall on people like rain

And our country helps cause this pain?

How can you cry

Over world war II movies

And turn a blind eye to the repetition of history?

You imagine yourself as a hero

If you'd lived during the war

You would've been tellin' me how admirable

Fuckin' Hitler was

Your favorite rich asshole did a Nazi salute

You tell me it was a mistake

I hope ~~one day~~ your rose-tinted glasses

Blow up in your face like the cybertrucks you adore

Millions of people are dying

Children live in ~~a world of~~ starvation and terror

'Til they're shot in the back

Or their hearts give out from fear

WCNPF -

Wounded Child, No Surviving Family

What horror makes this acronym a requirement?

It's a genocide

Is this what the great nations of the west support?

There is no excuse

No history or land claim

To explain this disregard of human rights

Take off your blindfold

Look away from X for a goddamn second

What will it take for you to realize you're

on the wrong side of history?

Preachin' about love and kindness

"God created all man equal"

So why aren't they equal in the eyes of someone who calls himself godly?

You turn around and talk about a war

As if it's anything but a slaughter

"If only HAMAS would give up"

Israel could stop bombing hospitals

The hypocrisy makes me sick
Is it not so special

Because they're in your fancy book

That genocide is acceptable

Propaganda's sweet poison fills your mind

Like the snake tricking Adam and Eve

What will it take for you to open your eyes?

To think for yourself for a fucking second?

Can you look at videos upon videos of death

And tell me I'm the one falling for lies?

The only propaganda I've fallen for is

The value of human life.